

COOKIE POLICY

The website www.znr.it (the "Site") uses both first and third party cookies. Cookies are computer recordings of information transmitted by a web server to the user's device for future identification of that device at the time of future visits to the same website or for the performance of certain features of the site. If Cookies are set by the site owner, they are first party cookies, otherwise if they are set by someone different from the site owner, they are third party cookies.

The first-party cookies that are installed on the Site are technical/functional cookies that are essential for the proper performance of the Site and its functions. No consent is required for the installation of the aforementioned category of cookies.

Third-party cookies used on the Site enable the performance of analytical purposes. These analytical cookies collect anonymous and aggregate data concerning visitor behaviour in order to improve the browsing experience and measure visitors' traffic. They are only used to produce aggregate statistics in relation to the Site. The encryption settings applied are designed to hide the IP address component that would otherwise allow the identification of the user. For these reasons, the analytical cookies applied are equivalent to technical cookies and therefore consent is not required.

With respect to the storage period of cookies, this Site uses cookies that remain for a predetermined period that may vary depending on the function performed. At the end of the established period, the cookies are automatically deleted.

Specifically, the cookies used on the Site are:

Language:

qtrans_front_language (Persistent Cookie)

Google Analytics:

_ga (Persistent Cookie)

_gid (Persistent Cookie)

_ga_[id] (Persistent Cookie)

The information generated by the cookies on your use of the Site is transmitted and stored on Google's servers and will be managed in accordance with Google's privacy policy. It is possible to consult Google's privacy policy, relating to the Google Analytics service, at the following link: <https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=it>
